Don’t Be A Scrooge!
Give Back To Your Favorite Performing Arts Groups This Holiday Season

The holiday season is traditionally a time for giving. We give to our friends and family, to those less fortunate than us, to organizations and causes we care about. We take pride in not being “Scrooges” or “Grinches” as we come together to spread joy.

The performing arts, especially here in the Greater Milwaukee Area, are always giving. They give us entertainment, memories, laughter, and inspiration. The performing arts are such a vital part of this community. Here at Footlights, we’re honored to work alongside so many of the incredibly talented artists and organizations that call this community home.

That’s why this holiday season, Footlights has decided to dedicate this issue to giving back to the amazing groups we work with. This is a call to action to all of you, the patrons reading this sitting in the house. Maybe the show is just about to begin, or maybe you are excitedly reading more about the artists you just saw during intermission. We challenge you to help us give back to the many performing arts organizations in our community.

We’ve asked the groups we work with to send us lists of items that would help them this holiday season. Some of the items are listed right here in this article! All throughout this holiday season, we’ll continue to add and update even more items and organization’s wishlists on Footlights.com - so make sure to keep checking back.

And if you don’t have the resources to give some of these items - that’s okay! David Cesarini, Artistic Director of Next Act Theatre, reminds that there are many other ways to give to these wonderful organizations. “My wishlist only contains one item: audience,” says Cesarini. “The best thing patrons can bring, send, and give to Next Act and all our performing groups is more audience.”

Here are “a few of our favorite things” that performing arts groups shared with us from their wishlists. Make sure to check out Footlights.com for more items and more organizations!

Interested in helping check some of these items off of their lists? Reach out to Footlights Editor Ryan Albrechtson at 262-439-5750 or ralbrechtson@footlights.com and he’ll get you in touch!
Milwaukee Chamber Theatre
Dinner supplies (Such as paper plates, bowls, napkins, plastic cups, and cutlery!)

Wisconsin Philharmonic
A new conference table and chairs. (To seat twelve people at our office!)

Falls Patio Players
A man’s wool top hat, or $75 to purchase one. (For our upcoming production of Christmas Carol!)

Waukesha Civic Theatre
Curtains for the Mirrors in the Studio (Our mirrored wall is great for dance classes and choreography rehearsal, but can be distracting for kids in other classes and audiences during performances. Long curtains would allow us to use the space to its fullest potential!)

Concordia University
New Couches and Chairs (For students to use in our green room!)

Milwaukee Repertory Theater
A projector (For use in the Quadracci Powerhouse!)
SummerStage of Delafield
Professional grade, countertop popcorn machine. (Popcorn is our most popular concession item and our current machine is barely keeping up with demand!)

Chant Claire Chamber Choir
New Folders (As our choir grows we need more!)

Feast of Crispian
Elizabethan Period Costumes (We’re not picky about this - think Ren Faire items! Tending toward larger sizes.)

Cardinal Stritch University
A Compound Mitre Saw (We are very much in need of replacing an old and increasingly dangerous radial arm saw in our shop with a versatile new tool, most importantly to keep our student carpenters safe!)

Skylight Music Theatre
Two high quality/high volume bluetooth speakers. (For use by our Education Department!)

Sunset Playhouse
Home Depot Gift Cards (To help us purchase set building supplies!)

Milwaukee Opera Theatre
A home printer/copier/scanner for our Company Manager (So he doesn’t always have to run to DigiCopy!)

Make sure to check out Footlights.com for more wishlist items and more performing arts groups. Happy giving!
It’s not a secret that there’s a lack of opportunities for performing artists of color at all levels. In the 2016-2017 Broadway season, less than 19% of all roles were played by African American performers. This trickles down into theatre across the nation - from regional theatres, community theatres, and everything in between.

Here in Milwaukee, while we are lucky to have many organizations taking initiatives to bring more artists of color to the stage, we are equally in need of a movement to push even further forward. The leader of that movement, whose whole mission is to increase the availability and quality of African American arts, is Black Arts MKE.

“Black Arts MKE is uniquely positioned as a catalyst for advancing racial equity and inclusion in Milwaukee,” says Barbara Wonzo, Executive Director of the organization. “Our programming advances racial equity for local artists of color by providing professional growth opportunities. This programming provides visibility and access to mainstream arts sector and has resulted in actual career advancement throughout the local performing arts venues and arts education sectors.”

In 2015, Black Arts MKE started producing Langston Hughes’ Black Nativity in collaboration with the Marcus Center. “We were searching for a wonderful holiday inspired piece by a renowned playwright that would attract the entire community but especially the African American community families, young adults, etc,” says Wanzo. “There was a phenomenal community response to the musical. We heard many comments like, “It’s about time Milwaukee had something like this (i.e. represents the African American culture.”) The first year’s play was instrumental in bringing together the community including many church congregations.”

The production received such a great response, they decided to remount it the following year. Since, they’ve put a lot of effort into making this production accessible - such as offering student matinees to at-risk youth in neighboring elementary schools.

“Many at-risk youth and their families had not been inside a theater, much less be able to see a professional dynamic, engaging play onstage with people who look like them and who were from our community. Honestly, it was both heartwarming and heartbreaking,” says Wanzo.

During the last three years, director Malkia Stampley wanted to inspire social change through acknowledgement of a current community issue through performance prologue and post-performance audience engagement. “I allow a social issue that affects Milwaukee and the national community to be a guide as I stage the production. I like to think of it as a backdrop, a seed that will grow on its own once you leave the stage” says Stampley. “Our production takes place today, in a city like Milwaukee, so I also ask myself every year ‘is this relevant?’ In 2016, I was struck by the unrest in Sherman Park. In 2017, the killing of unarmed Black men still dominated my heart as well as the controversy of Colin Kaepernick’s kneeling and dismissal from the professional game of football. There are so many issues that touch my heart on a daily basis so it’s not always an easy task.”

This year, a new director takes on this production as Black Arts MKE presents the show for the 5th time. The show will be presented once again at the Marcus Performing Arts Center, and will run December 5 -15. Tickets, and additional information, can be found at MarcusCenter.org

The art of performance draws our eyes to the stage

Our community’s commitment to arts and culture says a lot about where we live. Theater brings us together from the moment the lights go down and the curtains come up.

A Christmas Carol cast, we applaud your performance.
A NOTE FROM THE ARTISTIC DIRECTOR

Milwaukee Rep's numerous productions of A Christmas Carol have gone on quite a journey. Starting in the 1976/77 Season, adaptations of this brilliant, and still most necessary, Charles Dickens novella, have graced the Pabst Theater every year since. Including this adaptation, which I wrote as part of the John (Jack) D. Lewis New Play Development Program, that premiered in the 2016/17 Season.

This makes our telling of A Christmas Carol the second-longest, continuous running professional production of the show in the USA – quite a feat! To say that A Christmas Carol is a Milwaukee tradition is an understatement: going into our 44th production, it has now become engrained as a premiere, festive, family entertainment in our city. The idea of it not being here every year is almost as inconceivable as not celebrating the holiday season itself, so we thank you all wholeheartedly for being here today and helping to continue and support this wonderful tradition.

Though “Christmas” is in the title of the piece, I don’t believe Dickens fully intended this story to be specifically religious, but rather a moral and social tale with warnings. Its central themes of being present, living in the moment, putting the love of family and friends over material gain, and striving for goodness and generosity every day of the year, transcend seasons, eras, denominations, and cultures. The lessons learned through Scrooge's perilous journey, and close brushes with the nature of mortality, are ones intended to help inform us of how we might best live our lives on a day-to-day basis, thus making it a perennial tale of relevance.

These messages have also strongly resonated with our company most recently, with the sad loss of Lara Leigh Dalbey, a much-loved member of our Rep family, and Wig Master and Makeup Supervisor for over 20 years. Lara's impact on both our theater and the lives of the people who came through Milwaukee Rep's doors is immeasurable. She especially had an enormous artistic influence on A Christmas Carol serving as the Makeup/Hair/Wig Designer. Although we mourn the loss of such a talented artist and friend, taken from us far too young, we are warmed and overwhelmed by the outpouring of love from all those that knew her and will now miss her so greatly. As a small tribute, we dedicate this year’s production of A Christmas Carol to Lara, her family, and theater family in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and beyond.

Even in the darkest times, there is light. It is always a bright spot in our year to assemble the A Christmas Carol team who bring so much enthusiasm and energy to the production. The show is not only a tradition for our audiences, but for our artists as well, many of whom are reprising their roles from previous seasons. The show also features our largest young performer ensemble, and we are thrilled to watch year-to-year as these young actors grow in their craft - some joining our Professional Training Institute or Emerging Professional Residency Program, some taking on principle parts in this show and other Rep productions, some even going on to have successful professional acting careers around the country. From our audiences to our artists, A Christmas Carol truly enjoys a great legacy.

Whether you’re continuing a tradition tonight, or starting a new one, we hope you find as much joy in watching A Christmas Carol as we had in making it.

Wishing you and yours all the very best for the festive season and a Happy New Year.

Edmund Assaly was the first musical director for Milwaukee Rep’s production of A Christmas Carol, and he continued in this role until his death in 1983.

Born in Rosetown, Canada in 1920, he began playing the piano at eight and, when his family moved to Saskatoon in the early 1930s, he studied piano and composition. He was the organist at Saint James Church and played on CBC radio in Canada. During World War II he took part in entertainment tours for the troops and began his career in composition.

Edmund received the licentiate degree of music from the Royal College of London and went on to compose and conduct for radio and television for CBC, eventually settling down in Montreal. While there, he enjoyed a successful career as a composer, creating works like Carrefour, the award-winning work of the Montreal Ballet Festival (1950), and other works for ballets throughout the 1950s and 60s. He undertook the musical direction of the national tour of You’re A Good Man, Charlie Brown! for more than a year and even performed at the White House.

He moved to Milwaukee in 1970 with his wife, Gretta, to teach orchestration, arranging, and harmony at UW-Milwaukee. While in Milwaukee, he worked with many arts groups in Milwaukee including the Milwaukee Symphony, the Milwaukee Ballet, and the Milwaukee Opera. One of his crowning achievements was the creation of the musical All Together Now in 1973 with former Milwaukee Rep Artistic Director Nagle Jackson and former Resident Acting Company member Jeffrey Tambor.

Milwaukee Rep owes Edmund and Gretta Assaly a huge debt of gratitude for their contributions in making A Christmas Carol one of Milwaukee’s most beloved holiday traditions!
